LEGAL & GENERAL NEWS.

The Gaelic leaves at 5 o'clock this evening.

The Hawaiian Band will play at the Queen's Hospital to-morrow afternoon.

The examinations for corporals in the Honolulu Rifles was postponed until next Friday evening.

Mr. Kerr is busily engaged making uniforms for the officers of the Hawaiian Army.

Mr. J. Asch has presented to each of the local fire companies a large size portrait of himself.

WHEN the appropriation bill passed its third reading, the grand total amounted to $4,542,477.16

Mr. Wm. G. Irwin, in company with Col. Claus Spreckels, will leave for San Francisco on the 23rd inst.

The steamship Australia will be due here to-morrow, en route from San Francisco to Sydney, Australia.

The tearing down of the buildings lately occupied by Mr. Michels and Mr. Max Eckart, on Fort street, began this morning.

The members of the St. Andrew's Church Association meet this evening at the house of M. P. Robinson, Esq., Nuuanu Valley.

PRINCESS Liliohalani's regular monthly reception will be held this afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock, at her residence, Palama. The Band will be in attendance.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association will be held at Library Hall to-morrow, Friday, Oct. 8th, at 7:30 p. m.

The semi-annual meeting of the Island Association of Native Ministers began yesterday in the Kaumakapili Church. The meeting which generally lasts three days, will probably end to-morrow.

His Majesty the King received the newly appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Forces, at noon to-day, at the Palace. The officers' commissions were handed to them, and they will forthwith enter upon their duties.
The Band furnished music. The head quarters of the Commander-in-Chief will probably be at Aliolani Hale.

A WHITE horse hitched to a two wheeled cart, and employed in hauling dirt for the Police authorities ran away this morning, and made things hum for a moment. The runaway came down Fort street at a furious rate; but on turning into a lane opposite Hopper's mill, the cart turned over and brought the horse to a stand.

WHILE the steamer Lehua was discharging at Pauhanu, on her last trip, a piece of iron weighing about 1500 pounds, fell out of the sling into 13 fathoms of water. The Marine Railway diver with his apparatus left for Pauhanu by the steamer Kilauea Hou, this noon, to recover the lost iron.

Patient—Then you think my finger will have to be amputated, doctor? Surgeon—Yes, it will have to come off. Patient—How much will the job cost? Surgeon—Fifteen dollars. Patient—Is that the best you can do, doctor? I'm a poor man. Surgeon—Yes, $15 is the best I can do for one finger, but I'll cut two of 'em off for $25.—N.
Y. Times.

ECONOMY.

$4,542,477.16.

The sum of four millions, five hundred and forty two thousand, four hundred and seventy-seven dollars and sixteen cents is all that the Legislative Assembly has appropriated for the expenditures of the next two years. This is at the rate of $66.78 per head, for every man, woman and child in the Hawaiian Islands. As fully three-fourths of the population consists of non taxpayers, the outlay will be some two hundred and twenty-seven dollars and seventeen cents ($227.17) per head, on the tax-paying inhabitants.

FANCY SALE.

It is the intention of the Sisters of St. Andrew's Priory to hold a Fancy Sale, in their schoolroom, in aid of the Cethral Building Fund, on or about, St. Andrew's Day, Nov. 30. They will be glad to receive contributions of fancy articles, children's clothing, etc., and of supplies for the refreshment table. An early communication from all who wish to assist will be gratifying to the Sisters.

At the meeting of Engine Co.
No. 1, last night, Mr. Julius Asch, First Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department, presented to the Company, through the treasurer, Mr.
Sullivan, a large size picture of himself. The picture is an enlarged photograph, beautifully finished, in a gilt frame, and represents Mr.
Asch in uniform. The meeting was a large one, and the gift was gratefully accepted as a token of friendly feeling and good-will.

At the regular monthly meeting of Engine Co. No. 2, last evening, two articles in the by-laws were changed. One making members six months in arrears, and not attending drills and meetings for six months, (instead of one year) liable to expulsion. The other leaving the time of drills to the discretion of the foreman, who is to give due notice. During the meeting a gift from First Assistant Julius Asch (a picture of himself in a large gilt frame) was accepted, with thanks, and on motion it was hung on the wall opposite a photograph of the Pacific House effigy.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

There was a goodly attendance at the weekly meeting in Fort-street Church last evening. Mr. Cruzan in his opening prayer, pleaded that opium should be kept out of the country. Prof. Van Slyke read a paper, showing the benefit missions had been to science. Miss Gulick gave a short account of mission work in Japan. Answering a number of questions, she said that there were 10,075 Christians throughout all Japan, which was a small proportion of the millions of people.
During the meeting prayer was offered by Mr. Bingham and Mr. H.
Waterhouse.—[Daily Herald.

ARRIVAL OF THE GAELIC.

The S. S. Gaelic, Captain W. G.
Pearne, commander, arrived this morning at 10:14 o'clock, from San Francisco, en route for Yokohama and Hongkong. The Gaelic sailed from San Francisco Sept. 30th, at 2:50 p. m. with 1,005 passengers aboard, 21 Europeans in the cabin for Yokohama, and 8 for Hongkong; 940 Chinese in the steerage for Hongkong and 36 for Honolulu. The steamer was anchored off port and her passengers landed by Mr. J.
Simonson in the steam scow. The Gaelic brought besides a few packages of merchandise, a large mail.
She will sail for Yokohama and Hongkong at 5 o'clock this evening, taking from this port a number of Chinese passengers.

THE FREE SHOW.

An immense crowd assembled at Dr. W. H. Hill's free exhibition, in the vacant lot at the rear of the Shooting Gallery, last night. All classes and nationalities were in the crowd. The people completely surrounded the platform, but those not there early were unable to get near because of the complete jam. Dr.
Hill commenced by exhibiting the diplomas of himself and associate, Dr. Rennie, his being dental and his associate's medical. These diplomas are from recognized colleges in the United States, and have been submitted to the Hawaiian Board of Health. The Doctor then proceeded to give an exhibition of his skill in dentistry. A steady stream of patients poured on to the stage for 15 or 20 minutes, and were operated on in quick succession, and with unusual skill. A great demand was made for the medicine, which was sold in fifty cent and one dollar packages. With each package a ticket was given, which entitled the holder to a free medical examination at the Doctor's office, Fort street, the following day, and if the trouble from which the purchaser is suffering is one for which this medicine is unsuited, the money will be refunded; for it is not claimed that it is a universal remedy. The elephant, which came at the tail end of the show, seemed to create considerable amusement in the crowd.

It was announced that two more exhibitions would terminate the series—to-night and to-morrow night.

BETHEL SOCIAL UNION.

The annual meeting of the Social Union of the Bethel congregation was held, last evening, at the Lyceum. The principal business was the election of officers, for the ensuing year and committees for hop, Mrs. J. O. Carter, Mrs. D. P.

Peterson, Mrs. J. Shaw, Rev. S. E.
Bishop, J. W. Robertson, John Cassidy.

Welcome—J. Shaw, E. W. Langley, T. G. Thum, W. R. Kinney, R. J. Greene, N. Logan, Mrs. J.
M. Damon, Mrs. S. E. Bishop, Mrs.
E. C. Damon, Mrs. J. M. Oat, Lizzie Campbell, Addie Peterson.

It was agreed that the usual socials be held every second month.

A SLAVE TO THE KEROSENE HABIT.

Superintendent Metzger, who has charge of the supplies for the Third-avenue elevated stations, has for some time wondered why it was that at the uptown Sixty-seventh street station several times the quantity of kerosene was used as at any other station on the road. The lamps there did not burn any brighter than the rest of the company's lamps, neither did any of the station men carry it to their homes, for a watch was put upon them and they are all payers of large gas bills. Mr. Metzger's curiosity was greatly increased when about three months ago, a new kind of oil called "non-explosive" was furnished at the station and no more was used there than at any other place on the road. He put one of the sharpest and shrewdest of the company's detectives at work, and the latter's investigation proved that the cause of the oil leakage was a big, 6-foot colored porter, William Dickerson, who is employed about the Sixty-seventh-street station.

William confessed that he was a slave to kerosene-drinking and that to him there was no wine, no matter how ancient or costly, that could compare with his favorite beverage.

He began drinking oil when a boy in "Ole Kaintuck," where he was born. His appetite for melons, apples and peaches was almost uncontrollable and when he had satiated his stomach rebelled until he became doubled up with cramps.
His mother didn't have a private bottle of "49 brandy," and Janna-malica ginger to draw upon and its only substitute, in her mind, was kerosene; so young Dickerson was dosed with the oil liberally. As he grew older, the desire for "ile" increased in proportion to his size and capacity, so that now a teaspoonful is needed, where, before, a spoonful was sufficient. Now, when the cramps come on, nothing short of a half a pint of kerosene will allay the pain. Many witnesses testify to his eccentricity in his cravings for oil and say that they have watched him dispose of cupful after cupful.

He says that the "non-explosive" oil burns his throat, while the other "don't taste like nuffin."

Recently the manager of a Bovary museum called on William and tried to induce him to accept an engagement at his place of entertainment. But William's wife and six small children—as well as William himself—are entirely satisfied with the honor that has already come to him from his fellow-porters and they do not wish to become public personages. The manager offered him $15 a week to drink oil before the East-Siders, but he stoutly refused to desert the railroad company.—[N. Y. Tribune.

"Say, Milus, when air yer gwine ter name yer new boy," a negro, upon meeting an acquaintance, asked. "Done named him."
"Dat so?" "Yes, sir." "Hopes yer gin him er big name." "I did.
Named him arter a big Congressman." "What does yer call?"
"Oleomargarine Bill." "Dat's,

A Woman's Sufferings and Gratitude.

A Voice from Austria.

Near the village of Zillingdorf, in Lower Austria, lives Maria Haas, an intelligent and industrious woman, whose story of physical suffering and final relief, as related by herself, is of interest to English women. "I was employed," she says, "in the work of a large farmhouse. Over-work brought on sick headache, followed by a deadly fainting and sickness of the stomach, until I was unable to retain either food or drink. I was compelled to take to my bed for several weeks. Getting a little better from rest and quiet, I sought to do some work, but was soon taken with a pain in my side, which in a little while seemed to spread over my whole body, and throbbled in my every limb.
This was followed by a cough and shortness of breath, until finally I could not sew, and I took to my bed for the second time. As I thought for the last time. 'My friends told me that my time had nearly come, and that I could not live longer than when the trees put on their green lace more. Then I happened to get one of the Seigel pamphlets.
I read it, and my dear mother brought me a bottle of Seigel's Syrup, which I took exactly according to directions, and I had not taken the whole of it before I felt a great change for the better.
My last illness began June 3, 1882, and continued to August 9th, when I began to take the Syrup. Very soon I could do a little light work. The cough left me, and I was no more troubled in breathing. Now I am perfectly cured.
And oh, how happy I am! I cannot express gratitude enough for Seigel's Syrup. Now I must tell you that the doctors in our district distributed handbills cautioning people against the medicine, telling them it would do them no good, and many were thereby influenced to destroy the Seigel pamphlets; but now, wherever one is to be found, it is kept like a relic. The few preserved are borrowed to read, and have been mine for six miles around our district.
People have come eighteen miles to get me to buy the medicine for them, knowing that it cured me, and to be sure to get the right kind. I know a woman who was looking like death, and who told them there was no hope for her, that she had consulted several doctors, but none could help her. I told her of Seigel's Syrup, and wrote the name down for her that she might make no mistake. She took my advice and the Syrup, and now she is in perfect health, and the people around us are amazed.
The medicine has made such progress in our neighborhood that people say they don't want the doctor any more, and they are taking the Syrup. Sufferers from gout who were confined to their bed and could hardly move a finger, have been cured by it. There is a girl in our district who caught a cold by going through some water, and was in bed five years with convulsions and rheumatic pains, and had to have an attendant to watch by her. There was not a doctor in the surrounding districts to whom her mother had not applied to relieve her child, but every one crossed themselves and said they could not help her.
Whenever the little bell rang which is rung in our place when somebody is died, we thought surely it was for her, but Seigel's Syrup and I saved her life, and now she is as healthy as anybody, goes to church, and can work even in the fields. Everybody was astonished when they saw her out, knowing how many years she had been in bed. Today she made her gratitude to mine for God's mercies and Seigel's Syrup.
MARIA HAAS.

The people of England speak confirming the above.

After Several Years.
"Stoke Ferry, January 9th, 1884.
"Gentlemen,—I have used Seigel's Syrup for several years, and have found it a most efficacious remedy for Liver complaints and general debility, and I always keep some by me, and cannot speak too highly in its praise. I remain, yours truly,
Harriet King."
